

UNIVERSITY OF
NOTRE DAME

Communications Program Director

Responsible for developing and implementing strategies for communication with diverse constituencies. The role includes managing and coordinating internal and external marketing and public communication objectives and strategies for the School of Architecture particularly among key audiences: architecture critics and the media, deans of schools of architecture and professionals, politicians and developers, alumni and prospective students, and the University.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS:

Bachelor's degree in communications, marketing or other related field of study. 10 + years in developing strategic communications plans. Management experience including staff supervision and strategic leadership in team and committee roles.

For more information and to apply, visit <http://ND.jobs> to Job # 13245.

AA/EOE