We are among the premier community colleges in the nation, and are dedicated to creating a dynamic academic environment for students and staff. The Sonoma County Junior College District is one of the largest community college districts in the United States, with an estimated 3,000 faculty and staff, and 30,000 students enrolled each semester. Our 1,600 square mile service region, located one hour north of San Francisco, has a mild year-round climate. It includes unique natural features, such as the Pacific coastline, redwood forests, and world-renowned vineyards and wineries.

SRJC attracts and retains the most qualified faculty and staff from diverse backgrounds. This is achieved through an inclusive recruitment strategy and a rigorous, thorough hiring process that begins with the fair and consistent evaluation of each application for minimum qualifications and demonstrated skills specific to each position. Because the ability to serve students from broad cultural heritages, socioeconomic backgrounds and genders is a key commitment of the college mission, SRJC actively encourages applications from candidates who recognize the value that diversity brings to a professional educational community.
